Japs" Moving In Badly-Mauled Divisions Which Fled Burma

HINESE FAN OUT, Make Successful Drives in 3 Directions From Foochow

(By International News Service) CHUNGKING, May 25.—Chinese troops surged down to Kweichow-Kwangsi railway to recapture the strategic Kwangsi Province town of Hwaiyuan-Chen, west of the big Japanese base at Ishan, a spokesman at Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's headquarters announced today.

Farther north in the Foochow area, other Chinese forces moved to check Jap reinforcements landed north of Slapu from enemy warships to reinforce their routed garrisons fleeing north from recaptured Lienkung.

The official report added that in Kwangsi Province the Japs were moving in some badly mauled divisions which had fled from Burma through Indo-China.

Some military observers say the Jap landings northeast of Foochow are not only a move to stem the vicious drive of the Chinese, but as

Himmeler Ends Life By Biting Into Poison Vial

LONDON, May 25.—Biting into a vial of poison hidden in his mouth, Heinrich Himmler, No. 1 war criminal, took his own life on Wednesday.

His suicide occurred as he stood before his British captors at Lüneburg, Germany.

Three days earlier Himmler—object of history's greatest manhunt—had been picked up in disguise as he tried to cross a bridge at Bremervoerde, 25 miles west of Hamburg, in the company of two tough-looking Nazis.

No one knew then that the British Tommies on guard at the bridge had in their hands at last the man he ordered the destruction of.

He had been held in the custody of the Czechoslovakia, and who had been held responsible for the deaths of hundreds of thousands of Jews and political prisoners.

He had shaved off his toothbrush moustache. A black patch over his right eye replaced his horn-rimmed glasses.

He was in civilian clothes and carried identity papers bearing the name of one "Hitzinger," discharged member of the German field security police.

For three days he hid the vial of poison in his mouth as he was questioned, stripped and searched from toe to ear, then finally admitted his identity by ripping off the black patch last night in the parlor of a house in Lüneburg.

Society of Graduates Will Conduct Reunion

BURLINGTON, N. J., May 25—One of the most important events of the year will occur at St. Mary's tomorrow when the Society of Graduates holds its annual meeting and many alumnae will return to pay homage to the school on the 10th anniversary of the death of Bishop Doane's birthday.

This year also marks the 15th anniversary of the society. Because of transportation difficulty, however, only a small group is expected this year. The Rt. Rev. James J. Gardner, bishop of New York, will celebrate the Holy Eucharist at 10:30 a. m. in the old chapel. This will be followed by the traditional custom of reading Bishop Doane's portrait. A wreath of pansies, his favorite flower. Preceding the formal luncheon at 1:15 a business meeting will be held, at which time the mistress will present members of the class of 1945 to the Society graduates.

Miss Eliza Ridgway, president of the Society, will preside at the luncheon meeting and at the luncheon. At 3:30 the alumnae will attend the operetta "Pinafore" which students of the school are preparing.

The most important topic for discussion at this meeting is the formation of plans for beautifying the chapel, the cornerstone of which was laid 100 years ago. The chapel was formally consecrated in 1845 and the Society hopes to have the redecoration completed within a few years.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Herman H. Doh
Pastor
Andalusia Baptist Church

Our Heavenly Father, we come to Thee thru Christ our Saviour, praying for all those who continue on in the battle for freedom and righteousness. May the grim shadows of war soon be put to flight by the radiant brightness of a new day, when the hearts of men shall be filled with the love of Christ and Thy will shall be done on earth as it is in Heaven. Amen.

FLEETWINGS WINS 1ST GAME OF THE LEAGUE SERIES

Airplane Builders Defeat
Trenton Prison Officers
By Score of 4 to 2

PIUMA ON THE MOUND

Only His Wildness at Times
Spoiled His Otherwise
Fine Performance

Herman Piuma was tight in the pinches on Leedom's field last evening as he hurled the Fleetwings Arrows to a 4-2 victory over the Prison Officers in a Trenton Industrial League contest. It was the first win of the season for the Arrows.

Only his wildness spoiled the pitching performance of the ex-Marine. He walked seven batters and hit another with a pitched ball to put himself in a hole on several occasions. But he was at his best when in trouble as he set down 10 of the visitors on strikes and allowed but three hits.

The winners had 10 hits off Dan Hendrickson and Fred Burkley. Burkley relieved Hendrickson in the sixth inning. Of the ten hits made by the Arrows, four were bunched in the initial canto for a trio of markers.

Bernie Lyzack opened this inning with a double and scored on a two-bagger by Bill Fine. Barbetta kept it up with a single and after Aurigemma went out, Joe Lukens doubled to left to score Barbetta.

Tosti started the scoring in the third with a single. He stole second and crossed when Fine delivered his second hit of the game, a single to left. That represented the Arrows' scoring although Aurigemma opened the sixth with a triple but could not be pushed around.

Myerick scored the first Guards' tally in the fourth on a pass, a passed ball, and a hit by Risoldi. The other counter was made in the seventh when Sabo was passed, stole second, and scored on Funari's single past third base.

The Voltz-Texaco team will meet the J. A. Roebing nine at Trenton this evening.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

BY JOE ELBERSON

More about Silver Lake . . . talked to State Fish Warden Harry Cole Wednesday afternoon. Among other things he told me that the Fish Commission plans to have the grounds cut three times this year. We all hope the program can be carried through. First cutting is scheduled for the first week in June.

Fished out of Fortescue on Sunday. Weather was fine. Ocean was a bit rough, however. And fish were few. Six of us took a total of 12 fish—ten croakers and two weakfish. Bernie Ballow was tops with four to his credit.

Two of the fellows were just a little seasick. Marty Hopkins, who never caught an edible salt water fish before, had two croakers in the bag before the rest of us could turn around. He also took two big sandsharks.

Although we fared poorly other local parties had some nice catches at various shore spots. A group of Bristolians fishing in the Bay at West Creek took 18 croakers. Another party, fishing out of Brielle, brought home 64 mackerel.

Building rifles . . . men whose lives have been devoted to gun-making produce the Garand rifle at Winchester. William H. Allender, an Englishman who has been straightening barrels at the New Haven, Conn., plant since 1910 is descended from a family which has been royal armorers in England since the reign of Henry the Eighth.

Eighty-one-year-old George E. Ortseifer assembled more than one hundred thousand automatic rifles before he began assembling Garands on December 7th, 1942.

Dave Carlson, hold-over national small bore champion and one of the world's great marksmen, "lines in" the sights of Garands by shooting them on the test ranges before they are packed in a thick vaseline-like grease, and shipped to the fighting fronts.

Making Garand-makers has been a job almost as difficult as making Garands because the draft took thousands of Winchester's craftsmen. Luckily the New Haven plant has been one of the pioneers in the operation of trade schools, and was able to train almost enough toolmakers to keep up with the inroads made by the draft.

According to reports received a few days ago the heaving were in the Tullytown Creek section in goodly numbers a week ago.

Raising pheasants . . . the progressive Lehigh County Fish & Game Protective Association of Allentown plans to raise 400 day-old birds furnished by the Game Commission. The cost in raising these chicks to ten-week-old birds is estimated at 50 cents per bird. The Commission furnishes the chicks and the Club pays all expenses of raising them. Local poultrymen co-operate by rearing the birds for the Association.

of Lienkong. Still another Chinese column drove northwest from Lienkong, spearheading Jap defenses for almost 10 miles.

PERSONAL NOTES

2nd Lt. Frank Mignone has returned to Indiantown Gap, after spending several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mignone, Dorrance street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilkinson, Tacony, spent Monday with relatives in town.

Miss Nora Jones, Radcliffe street, who has been a patient in the University Hospital, Philadelphia, is now recuperating at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kline, Ocean City, N. J.

Cpl. and Mrs. Michael Phillips, Savannah, Ga., spent the week-end at the home of the former's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Della, Otter street.

HAVERFORD — (INS) — Dr. Otto Stader who has invented the famed "Stader splint" which permits bones to knit while in use, was not above helping the Army Signal Corps when a local unit's sentry dog had both front legs injured in an accident. The splints were applied and the dog is recovering.

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — Bingo is big business according to Detective William Windhorst. He testified in court that a game operated by Roy Smith had grossed $292,953 in 36 weeks and made a profit of $44,841.

CHURCHILL RESIGNS

tion" in which state-socialism will replace capitalism and free-enterprise.

Both nations are far over-borrowed, so that their debts equal or exceed their physical resources. Both hope to recover economic stability out of foreign trade. Both have undertaken vast Social Security and other public spending programs which are a heavy mortgage on future earnings.

Just as the late President Roosevelt termed himself "just a little to the Left of centre," so Churchill may be said to be a bit to the Right of centre. So long as his regime continues, British conservatives can hope for the preservation of traditional English government and economy.

Defeat of Churchill as a result of the coming elections would be the equivalent to the election in this country of Henry Wallace, backed by Sidney Hillman. It would throw Great Britain into the hands of those who, whatever they may say in the political arena, really are dedicated to what Lenin called "dictatorship of the proletariat."

Churchill will meet the challenge—and it is a good bet that he will win hands down.

The English people are hardly likely, whatever other political considerations arise, to forget that in all their illustrious history they owe no greater debt to any one man than to their beloved "Winnie."

Cooney Performed On The Hill for The Boiler
Makers

The Rohm and Haas and the Badenhausen teams won the opening games of the Bristol Suburban League last evening.

On the Maple Beach diamond, the chemical workers beat Diamond 6-4, while on the Echo Beach field, the Baddies were victorious over the Schutte-Koerting nine, 7-1.

Paul Cervellero hurled for the Rohm and Haas team and held Diamond to five scattered hits. He had to check a Diamond rally in the last frame when his passes enabled the Mill Streeters to score twice and put the tying runs on the bags.

"Bill" Myers' fine defensive work aided Cervellero to chalk up his triumph. Several times Myers came through with dazzling stops and throws to retired base-runners which prevented Diamond runs from crossing the plate.

At Echo Beach, Jack Cooney was on the hill for the Badenhausen team and pitched good ball throughout. Freddie Samuel started on the mound for the Schutte-Koerting team but was relieved in the fourth by Johnny Kennedy.

Mrs. H. K. Fisher, president of Schutte-Koerting, tossed out the first ball.

Bensalem School Board Asks Aid To Get Land

the site next week, the school board states, with the case being heard in Doylestown on June 11th.

The tract owned by Buchl is made up of the former Hargell and Davis farms.

Preparing for the advent of the "air age," Buchl cleared off eight acres of woodland, laid out two 200-foot runways and made plans for 15 homes with hangars in the cellar, to be built on the site after the war. On the field itself he figured on accommodations for 125 private planes.

The project met with the approval of both the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, which had issued him certificates within the past month.

Meanwhile, the school board, faced with a rising school census and already overcrowded conditions, was looking about for a site for a new, larger high school with space for an athletic field. Its eye fell upon Buchl's airport site.

"I'm sorry we had to spoil his plans," said Joseph Siegle, president of the school board, "but we have to think of the needs of 1320 school children and the hundreds and hundreds of others who will be coming along in the years to come."

"Even if the rest of his land won't be suitable for an airport, it ought to be even more profitable for real estate development, what with our new high school going up there."

Mr. Buchl telephoned the Courier today and said that he had never been made an offer for the property. He stated that two years ago he was visited in Lancaster by a school official and asked if the place was for sale and informed that the Board would like to have 25 or 30 acres.

Mr. Buchl further stated that in November last year, he received a letter from the Board inquiring if the place was for sale and the price. On May 1st, Mr. Buchl says that he attended a meeting of the Bensalem Township School Board but that no price was mentioned.

Women Do Good Job Sorting Garments

but had the satisfaction of having done much to aid the struggling humanity of Europe. And today they hope to finish the job at the Percy G. Ford garage, Farragut avenue, where most of the garments collected from Bristol borough were stored.

Those who answered the call yesterday were: Mrs. Walter Cooper, Mrs. J. Polfeldt, Mrs. Louis Highland, Mrs. Peter Martin, Mrs. Louis Herring, Mrs. William Warner, Jr., Mrs. Robert Moss, Mrs. William George, Mrs. Paul White, and Mrs. John Yorty. The latter four are members of Bristol Chapter, American War Mothers.

Mrs. Cooper has put in many hours of work in the sorting of the clothes.

For the past week or two the clothing was gradually sorted, but yesterday, with a larger force, a real "dent" was made in the pile. The women have high hopes of finishing at that center today.

Some were finding mates for shoes, others were sorting clothing and yard goods.

The outlined "typing" of garments was as follows: 1. Clothing for infants to two year size; 2. children three to eight years; 3. men's and boys' nine years and over; 4. women's and girls' nine years and over; 5. shoes; 6. bedding, useable remnants and cellanous.

In the lot are men's and boys' suits and overcoats; shirts; blouses; women's and girls' dresses and coats; underclothing for ages and sexes; shoes; caps; bonnets for children; and infant wear of all kinds. The collect of clothing for babies is especially fine, state the women, some of articles being new.

In this "treasure trove" the men found some evening gowns. These are to be shipped also, they contain sufficient material to be made over into day-time dresses. Women's hats and pocketbooks are discarded as these were asked for in the drive. Sweats and jackets of all sizes are numerous, and some of the shoes are occasionally one of the sort finding a choice piece, takes it out to "model" the garment, and have a respite from their task. Yesterday they found time to admire long black skirt and white ap which some grandmother overs will be pleased to wear. The black skirt had narrow vertical tucks, and horizontal bands of a row black velvet for trim. The white apron, cut square and tucked around the waist, was trimmed with hand-made lace.
